FIRST TIME OVER

Rex Lampman of the Oregon Journal Once Over.

Dear Rex:—I promised you—a time ago—to write a story—I didn't—Now Rex—I will fulfill my promise and apologize—for the—I really couldn't find the time—in Columbia county—for a good

But now—old man—I have the—Columbia county—has as much timber—as any county—for a good story.

The county court—with some assistance—is doing some hard surface—which they call—Richmondite—a few years ago, Rex—to be really—well we all had to be afflicted—with some kind—of an "itis"—but nowadays—diseases are—gone—and we end our days—in an "ite."

And so, friend Rex, Scappoose—caught Richmondite—and that is us—on the map—and I think shall die.

Hope, Rex—that you won't tell—I am telling you—in confidence—I promised—the county court would not tell—and I won't—for I might sue me—for breach of promise—or something.

I was about to say—some time—the county court drove up—day—in the county Ford—to—after the Richmondite—and feel—pulse of Miss Scappoose—and we were all—dressed up—and us to not tell their wives—we didn't.

And this is what they found—at Piper boss of the wheelbarrow—Dan Freeman boss of the mining gang—Ordie Garrison boss—nobody, but working hard—Wikstrom boss of the steam—being a fat man he is a good—on the roller—J. B. Duncan, boss of the team gang—Frank Mc—boss of the tar pot—J. D. Mc—boss of all the gangs—and W. Olds of Oregon City says 'taint so he is boss—of the whole shoot—match.

And, Rex, I want to tell you—at this Richmondite—I see no—of the workers—have lost all—hair—of the top of their heads. So they put hair in Richmondite—same as in plaster? And one day—man lost his false teeth—in the pot.

Now, Rex—if those teeth—should—be day—bite a hole—in Amos—son's auto tire—could he—sue—Columbia county—for damages?

The reason why—we call this a—Over—is because—they spread—Richmondite—on the road—like—lapjack—and then—heave—oh—and all together—turn it—over.

And I most forgot—one night—a—thief—stole all the red lan—guages—and the bosses—are all sore—because you see—they can't half see—no boss.

And, Rex; if you'll come down—and boss this job—I'll do my best—to get you a fat job—as our next—Recall County Judge."

Your friend,

JO.

OPEN SEASON FOR DEER

The open season for killing deer—horns for the entire state began—August 15 and ends October 31. All—antlers and spotted fawns, or young—of the first year are protected—law. There is no open season on—antelope or mountain sheep in—Oregon. The limit for each hunter—during the open season is three deer—horns.

It is well for each sportsman to—be in mind that each hunting li—cense has three coupons attached. When a deer is killed, one of these—coupons is detached, signed, dated and—placed on the carcass of the deer. One—coupon must always accompany—the carcass. It is unlawful at—killing of deer to mutilate the—carcass in any way to disguise sex. It is also unlawful for any person to—be in his possession more than 40—pounds of dried venison.

PORTLAND MARKETS

Cattle—There was a good run of—cattle, 1150 head. Cows were in—good demand and prices were—up to 25 cents higher. There was a—liberal offering of steers and—steers found a slow sale. Prices were—up to 25 cents lower. Prime heavy—steers selling at $6.75, which was—under last week's top. The bulk—steers sold at $6 and $6.50. Qual—ity not being as good as a week ago. Cows were of very good quality. As—rule the bulk selling over the 5c mark. There were a number of loads—sold at $5.35 and $5.40. Bulls and—calves sold steady.

Hogs—The hog supply was rather—limited, 1800 head starting the day's—trading. There was a fairly good de—mand from all buyers and a brisk—trade ruled. Prices were steady to—a dime higher. Tops sold at $9.85—with the bulk of sales $9.75 and—$9.85.

Sheep—Yesterday's sheep house—trading was confined to a couple of—loads of lambs. They were fairly—good stuff and crossed the scales at—$8. All classes of sheep are in good—demand. The choice grade of lambs—are quoted at $8 and $8.25; best—yearlings $6.50, and prime light ewes—$5.25 and $5.50.

COUNTY FAIR

Keep the dates of the county fair—in mind. Look up your best prod—ucts, as every producer in the coun—ty should have something on exhibi—tion. Don't depend on your neigh—bor. You can raise just as good—grain or vegetables as he can. Stock—men should be on hand with their—choice animals. A splendid array of—premiums is offered in all lines. The—school exhibits promises to be even—better than last year, and that is—saying a good deal. If you haven't—received a copy of the premium list, it is yours for the asking.

ST. HELENS

Just forty-five minutes from Portland—in a speedy touring car, lies the little town of St. Helens. It is known both near and far. It's a lover's beauty spot. As anyone can see: Its background is the great green hills;

It's fronted by a bay; It is a resting place for ships that sail Upon the boundless sea; Where those that's rich and those that toil Join in sweet liberty.

Its streets are clean, its air is cool; Its water is first rate. And talk about a bathing beach—St. Helens' sure is great. The great tall fir in splendor grows—Up towards the azure skies; St. Helens is the place where those That's tired of city toil Come for their vacation trips. On just one gallon of oil. Now if you wish to be a king, In St. Helens you may reign; And your welcome to St. Helens, Good bye, call again. MRS. WM. COEN.
